Patient satisfaction means everything to everyone. Peace of mind from knowing that patients are getting the quality care they deserve is one of the fundamental principles behind our Foundation of Care. It's vital to the ongoing success of any long-term care facility. The key to achieving this, of course, is to continually improve the efficacy of patient care, and deliver quality care in a timely and more cost-effective manner.

Embedding a PHS nurse practitioner in a long-term care facility to assist with patient care greatly improves the efficiency of the facility's staff and physicians. In return, this helps improve the services that patients are provided.

PHS nurse practitioners also serve as a vital communications link between the care facility and physician, and the patient and their family or other designated caregivers. It's also why we'll be making a PHS Patient Portal and Information Gateway available in the near future. These two communication tools will allow family members and caregivers to monitor a patient's daily healthcare 24/7.

Every day we strive to improve the way healthcare is delivered to seniors in a variety of long-term care settings. Keeping patients and families better connected, is just one way we can help improve patient satisfaction and deliver peace of mind.
